

1798 & 1799.

In the month of Dec^r 1798 and the beginning of Jan^r 1799 the frost was so severe as to lower the Barometer to 13 degrees being 19 below the freezing point the ground was at the same time covered with snow but not very thick but did not continue long. The weather was afterwards very kind about a fortnight - on the last day of Jan^r the weather set in again very severe with frost and it snowed two nights and two days with the wind very high - consequently the snow was drifted so as to render the roads impassable it being in many places higher than the hedges, - Every town was obliged to raise all the hands they could to cut them open which could not be accomplished for many days, and it was no sooner done than a second snow fell which filled them up again so that the roads were ~~not~~ impassable for a fortnight during which time the cold was now severe than had been known for upwards of Forty years. The weather after the storm gave way but continued very harsh all Spring. On the morning of the 5th of April the snow fell at least 8 inches deep; it began about 10 o'clock A.M. and continued to fall very heavy till 2 o'clock P.M. and remained on the ground several days. Very wet & rainy. Remarkable flood, - the water was 2 feet deep in the Rising Piece. Harvest very late cold & heavy rains. About the middle of ^{harvest} was the largest flood that ever was known, - on lands adjoining ^{where the corn} was reaped it was taken away by the water and the rest spoiled. In consequence Corn began to rise in price and continued to rise until the May following. Best old wheat sold at 1 L. per bushel. Oats from £. 5. 5. to £. 3. 10. per qr. Sold wheat that years growth at £. 2. 14. 0. per load of 3 bushels - Very little wheat or Barley was got into the barns till about the 10th of October. Hay sold readily in Sheffield at 9 guineas per ton. Barley sold in the month of April at following at £. 3. 13. 6. per quarter. Malt at £. 5. per quarter. Beans at £. 2. 8. per load. - There was the best year Barley sold at 5 guineas per quarter.

July 1829

On the 15th Aug^{er} 1805. — Being threatened ^{with} invasion by the French. — and it was reported in the newspapers that Bonaparte was arrived at Bolongue to take the command of what he called his army of England and from other circumstances, ministers were alarmed and issued orders to volunteers corps to hold themselves in perfect readiness to march at a minutes notice. In the night before or early in the morning of the 15th Aug^{er} the alarm was given by the Beacon near Woolly which caused the Greens Wood beacon to light up. Consequently, the Volunteer corps in the neighbourhood immediately flew to arms and repaired to the respective places appointed to assemble. The waggons were immediately seized for conveying the Infantry and the following troops were in a few hours on their route to the places appointed by the commander of the District

Viz. The Barnsley, Two Wath Troops of Yeomanry Cavalry
~~Stainorps Regiment of Infantry. Ecclesfield do Rotherham do~~
~~Wath Wood Infantry Rotherham do Sheffield do~~
 Pontefract.

Sheffield two troops, Rotherham Troop, Newton do, of Yeomanry Cavalry. — Wath Wood Infantry Rotherham do Sheffield do Lancaster do Thorne do to Lancaster.

The number of Troops that turned out on the occasion and received their marching money was upwards of 2700 men —

The alarm proved false, owing to some Rake straw being set on fire in the direction of the Pontefract beacon from Woolley.

The courage and patriotism of the volunteers was put to the test. In every man's countenance was a visible determination to repel the enemy ^{support} and fight for his King and country. And everything that was dear to him as a Briton.

Cavalry	— 25180
Infantry	— 259501
Artillery	— 10482
Total	— 295163 Men.

1806 His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales & the Duke of Clarence honoured Doncaster Races with their presence - Colonel Ffoljambe intended escorting the Royal Brothers into the town with the Southern Regiment of Yeomanry Cavalry; and assembled the Regiment for that purpose. - But their Royal High^{ness} arrived in the town Sunday evening or about 1 o'clock on Monday morning. The Yeomanry were deprived of the Honour.

However his R. Highness was very much pleased with the appearance of the Regiment and wished to review them. and said if they would assemble themselves together he would come down from London on purpose - which he did, - accompanied by his brother the Duke of Clarence & Major Bromfield he was met by General Dyke the commander of the Yorkshire District on the 17th of Augst 1806. His R. Highness was pleased to express his satisfaction on the military appearance and accuracy with which the Reg^{mt} went through their different evolutions & manœuvres. The Regiment received his Royal High^{ness} letter by the hands of General Dyke to that effect.

Gen. Dyke expressed his entire approbation in flattering terms.

The Royal Brothers paid a visit to the principal Nobility & Gen^{ls} in the neighbourhood - and took the pleasure of fox hunting several days in different places. Once at Hooper Pyramid when he was at Lord Fitzwilliam's hands. Wentworth we found a fox in Wath Wood. After a short but smart run he got into ground near Upper Haugh. - On account of his Royal H. there was a ^{very} great field. The Wath Troop of Yeomanry

Cavalry escorted his R. H. from Rotherham to Wentworth House Nov^r 3rd 1806.

Augst 1811 a comet appeared every evening - in the West of very large size. During its appearance it was as light as if the moon shone it usually disappeared about 12 o'clock P.M. It continued till the latter end of Dec^r rising more towards the North every night during its stay the air was in the month of Nov^r as warm as is usual in July or Augst. Its appearance was very brilliant having a long streaming tail.

In the year 1812 in the month of August wheat sold for 25s. per basket in Wakefield.

Christmas Day 1813 the weather mild. The Thermometer stood at 60 Degrees in the shade.

On the 9th of May 1853 it began to snow about 10 o'clock A.M. and continued without intermission until 9 P.M. the flakes were of a very large size. The ground was covered 5 or 6 inches deep, and if it had not thawed as it fell, it would have been more than 2 feet in thickness. There was a very large flood.

On the 20th day of August 1856 - it began to rain about 4 o'clock P.M. and continued until about 7 o'clock the following morning: - the rain fell in torrents with a strong easterly wind. There was the largest flood that had been for a number of years; - the water was more than a foot deep, in the besting piece.

On Christmas day 1860 the cold was so intense as to register 8 degrees below zero, showing 40 degrees of frost. The Portugal laurels in the front garden were all destroyed to the roots. Very many apple plum & oak trees were also killed. The ice on the canal was 9 inches thick. There was a thin coating of snow which preserved the turnips.

The Cattle Plague broke out in 1865 by which hundreds of thousands ^{of beasts} were destroyed, at one time no person could remove a beast without a certificate from a magistrate by this and other restrictions it was stamped out about May 1866 I lost 18 head of cattle Dec. 1865. Y.B.

In November 1866 there was one of the largest floods almost ever known nearly the whole of the farm was covered with water a large portion of the newly sown wheat was destroyed
